WEDDING PROGRAM GUIDE

The wedding program is a welcome addition to your wedding ceremony. It gives your guests an overview of how the ceremony will proceed, and is a chance to introduce your wedding party. The program is often printed as close to the wedding date to allow for any changes that might occur.

Wedding programs are also a great place to include personal comments and information about the history of the couple, or to explain any specific religious or cultural aspects of the ceremony. The program can be as simple or as detailed as you wish. It can be a single page, or an entire brochure, it's up to you. The program is a great place to express your personality and have some fun.

Programs can include a list of the music that will be played before, during and after the ceremony, and even the lyrics to songs played. It's a good place to share a poem that has special meaning to the couple, or a favorite quotation or bible verse.

A good general guideline to follow is to start with the introduction, then list the ceremony order and the wedding party and their relationship to the couple, and close with a note of thanks or a special note.
